The monthly price calculation is based on the holding and the total value of the account and portfolio balances (including fiduciary investments and time deposits) and takes place on the first day of the month (excluded Saturday, Sunday and January 1st) concerned.

The package price is calculated quarterly and charged to the corresponding asset management account. If the investment package or portfolio is closed, the client will be required to pay the entire package price due for that month (no pro rata calculation).

Performance-based price model

With the performance-based price model, only the basic costs specified in the basic price are payable until the target return has been achieved. This basic price is lower than the package price and includes the remuneration for asset management, portfolio management, brokerage fee and reporting.

An additional profit-outperformance participation is only payable by the client in the event of above-average performance, and is only levied on the proportion that exceeds the target return. Even then, there is an upper ceiling (cap) to this fee.

Example: COMFORT active Balanced from CHF 100 000

The monthly price calculation of the basic price is based on the holding and the total value of the account and portfolio balances (including fiduciary investments and time deposits) and takes place on the first day of the month (excluded Saturday, Sunday and January 1st) concerned.

The basic price is calculated quarterly and charged to the corresponding asset management account. If the investment package or portfolio is closed, the client will be required to pay the entire basic price due for that month (no pro rata calculation). Third-party fees and taxes (e.g. federal stamp duty, stock exchange charges) are not included in the basic price and are invoiced separately.

In addition to the basic price, the profit-outperformance participation is based on the annual performance in the reference currency of the previous year and is charged once a year in the first quarter. If the performance-based price model is closed, the profit-outperformance participation of the chosen investment strategy, is settled pro rata.
